

Editors' Association of Canada/Association canadienne des réviseurs Honorary Life Membership Procedures: Appendix B

Effective date: June 2021

Area of Contribution	Shaping Editors Canada Nationally	Communications	Branches and Twigs	Publications	Training and Development	Volunteer Management	Francophone Editing Community	Professional Standards
Outstanding: Innovation at the strategic or policy level. Changes could not have happened without this person. Sustained commitment in multiple areas, with overall influence of the direction of Editors Canada. Outstanding policy development, strategy development, or through influential	Developed a new initiative or reformed an existing one, for example changing the purpose or planning of a major event. Made a difference through sustained innovation and influence on the NEC.	Developed new strategic orientation for communications at a national level. Wrote influential strategic or innovative materials on behalf of the organization. Spoke with the voice of the organization on influential strategic or innovative matters. Made a difference through sustained innovation and influence on communications.	Sustained leadership that shaped the strategic direction of a branch or twig. Grew a new branch or twig that continues. Made a difference through sustained innovation and influence on branches or twigs.	Shaped the ways in which Editors Canada communicates with itself and with the world. Developed a new publication such as a one-off book or a longer-term series. Developed a seminal idea for a publication. Made a difference through sustained innovation and	Developed new strategic orientation for training and development at the national level. Sustained leadership in shaping the strategic direction of training and development.	Started up innovative or strategic programs that require volunteer teams, such as blue pencil sessions or Word on the Street. Made a difference through sustained innovation and influence on volunteer management.	Gave sustained leadership in shaping the strategic direction of Editors Canada service for the francophone editing community. Grew a new francophone initiative that continues in the long term. Developed new strategies to raise the profile of francophone members in Editors Canada and	Shaped the ways in which Editors Canada defines professional standards for itself and with the world. Developed innovative resources or training strategies to meet professional standards. Made a difference through sustained innovation and influence on professional standards.

practice (being strategic while being hands-on).				influence on publications.			the wider community.
Excellent: Practical sustained leadership to make innovation or change happen.	Made sustained and significant new contributions within an area or areas, for example leading execution of a new initiative	Took a sustained leadership role in implementing innovation for one avenue of communications.	Sustained service on the leadership committee of a branch or twig to implement innovation and strategic direction.	Took a sustained leadership role in implementing strategy or innovation for publications.	Took a sustained leadership role in building an existing training and development direction.  Developed materials or teaching practices for a new or existing training and development direction.	Took a sustained leadership role in volunteer-run events.  Recruited and retained volunteer teams for the longer term.	Took a sustained leadership role in implementing innovation for one area of francophone affairs or services for francophone members.	Took a sustained leadership role in one area of building and maintaining professional standards.
Good: Assumes tasks and follows through quickly and efficiently.  These contributions are of definite value to Editors Canada, but do not qualify a person for	Contributed regularly to existing initiatives.	Regularly assumed responsibility for writing Editors Canada information such as press releases, event summaries, or promotional items.	Regularly contributed to running branch or twig events, over the long term.	Executed tasks to bring publications to completion.  Regularly contributed to publications.	Regularly taught training programs across Canada, such as webinars or workshops to multiple branches and twigs.	Participated in an event organizing committee.  Organized Editors Canada participation in an event or series of events, such as an Editors Canada booth at Word on the Street.	Organized events or training for francophone members.  Contributed French content to Editors Canada publications (writing, translating).	Contributed to promoting and maintaining professional standards through regular responsibility for invigilating, testing, or marking certification exams.

an honorary life membership.							Participated in committees for francophone initiatives.
------------------------------	--	--	--	--	--	--	---	--