

Editors' Association of Canada/Association canadienne des réviseurs
Honorary Life Membership Policy
Effective date: August 2014

Policy purpose

The purpose of this policy is to recognize EAC members who have made an exceptionally valuable contribution to the Editors' Association of Canada/Association canadienne des réviseurs.

Policy statement

Member contributions are vital to achieve the aims and objectives of the association. It is the policy of the Editors' Association of Canada to recognize members who make an exceptionally valuable contribution to the association.

Applicability

This policy applies to current or lapsed members of the association who, in the course of their membership, have made a sustained, significant contribution to the work or welfare of the association.

Responsibility

Members in good standing are responsible for nominating someone for an honorary life membership.

The national executive council is responsible for doing a preliminary review of a nomination for honorary life membership and deciding whether or not to recommend the nomination to association members for approval.

Editors' Association of Canada members are responsible for voting on whether or not to grant lifetime membership to a nominee.

Contact information

Enquiries about this policy should be directed to the national office of the Editors' Association of Canada.
